

Retro Salaries Delayed

Concordia University and the Concordia University Part-time Faculty Association wish to advise that the payment of retro salaries to part-time faculty members will be delayed until the next pay period of Thursday, October 8, 2009, because the parties have not completed the French translation of the Collective Agreement. The translation will be completed in the next week and no further delays are anticipated. We regret the slight delay but look forward to finalizing both the translation and the payment.
